RABBI'S REPORT

Spring Forward!

Yes, I know we have already reset our clocks, but those are the external clocks, the ones which tell us the time of day. I am speaking of our internal clocks, the ones which tell us the Jewish time of year.

There are two significant events in April, one readily apparent and another which affects me directly. Later this month we start celebration the festival of our freedom, Pesach. This is the major holiday of our year, the time which begins the story of our people as a free nation, free to worship our One God. Over 70% of all Jewish people (Pew Research Center) participate in a Seder. This is no regardless if they belong to a temple or not, if they define themselves by denomination or not, or even how they describe their Jewish identity. The matzah and the bitter herbs, the charoset and the eggs, call all Jewish people to the Seder.

And, it's easy to celebrate the seder, whether in your home, or at the shul's first night seder. Although I will not be with you, student rabbi Yael Werber will be, helping to lead the festivities. The Haggadah, the four cups of wine, Mah Nishtanah, and more will be part of the night of community and family, as we usher in the chag (holiday).

The holiday of Passover is a personal holiday. We celebrate the day as if we are slaves, and we are led to freedom by the recitation of the exodus from Egypt. Avadim Hayinnu, we are slaves.

The night is not all serious reading of ancient texts, however. There are plenty of songs, and plenty of frogs! Singing can continue for a long time after the official reading, but we must be finished by midnight. We need to be in shul the following morning for the first day of Passover and Shabbat. (Passover starts with the first Seder on Friday, April 19 and Shabbat/Festival Services on the morning of April 20. The second Seder is on Saturday night, April 20.)

Unfortunately Fran and I will not be in Glens Falls for the start of the chag, but we will be with you for the final days.

Just before Passover begins, on Tuesday, April 16, I will be ordained as a Rabbi by The Academy for Jewish Religion. It is a very humbling experience, one that I have worked for seven years to fulfill. During that time I took over 70 courses ranging from Talmud and Tanach, to the Zohar, Sefer Yestzirah, Counseling, Midrash, Contemporary Denominations, Development of Rituals and too many others to enumerate here. There were also courses in liturgy, from Shabbat to Yammim Noraim (the High Holydays).

In addition I have been fortunate to serve in congregations for over three years. I started as a rabbinic intern, and then spent more than three years as a student rabbi in Milford, CT and in Glens Falls. My work in the communities was vital in preparing me for the day.

But this is not the end of my training, merely a highlight of my journey. I'll be continuing at CST through Shavuot in June, and after that there will be other opportunities for me to serve the Jewish people. Even at my age, which I admit is slightly more than Yael's, I enjoy the prospect of bringing my interpretation and commentary of Torah.

When I arrive in Glens Falls on Friday, April 26, it will be as Rabbi Gerry Ginsburg, and I will have the honor of celebrating the last two days of Pesach with the Glens Falls community. We will celebrate Pesach and Shabbat on Friday night and Saturday morning, and also celebrate my ordination. My best wishes for a Zissen Pesach, A Happy Passover; and a Kasher Pesach, a kosher Passover.

Rabbi Gerry L. Ginsburg

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Heart-felt congratulations to Gerry Ginsburg on his ordination as rabbi from Academy for Jewish Religion. Gerry has worked hard to achieve his dream of becoming a rabbi and is a model for all of us who would like to take on new and meaningful challenges later in life.

In April, we will be welcoming back those in our community who winter in warmer climates. Like the first sounds of chirping birds in the spring, our returnees will bring ruach (spirit) with them and together we can awaken our sleeping neshamas (souls).

In addition to our spirited Friday night and Saturday morning Shabbat services, we will be hosting a first night Passover seder April 19, led by Student Rabbi Yael Werber, with a delicious kosher for Passover meal and at an affordable price.

We will be implementing major parts of our synagogue safety plan over the next few weeks. Unfortunately, we will need to get used to more locking of doors and ringing of bells to get inside. I have always been reluctant to place any barriers to entry but we really have no choice at this time as restricted entry is the most effective way to protect our congregants from violence. Fortunately, modern technology should make this transition relatively painless.
