RABBI'S MESSAGE

Coming Together as a Community

We read in Devarim, "If you will diligently keep all these commandments which I command you to do them, to love the Lord, your God, to walk in all His ways and to cleave to Him..." (Devarim 11:22) then blessing will follow. But wait a minute, there's an important difficulty to raise here: How is it possible to cleave to God? Cleaving is what Ruth did with Naomi, when she wouldn't let her go away to her land alone. She stuck with her. But how do you "stick with" God? The Jewish tradition teaches that we cleave to God by doing mitzvot. Those commandments direct us to love, respect and come into community others. Community is often spoken in hushed tones these days, as if the thing holds special power. But the actual business of living in community often involves hard knocks, getting hurt, or sometimes causing pain to others. That is a reason why many people stay away from community. Because community is not easy. It takes a lot of kindness, patience and maturity.

I recently spoke with someone who told me, "I am spiritual but not religious. So I don't really get involved in the Jewish community." I smiled politely, but asked if I could point out a flaw in this increasingly common approach. When granted permission, I pointed out that while this may be comfortable, there is a big problem. Spiritual growth is generally stunted by selfishness. One way to guarantee that I will have opportunities to challenge my selfishness is by living in community with others. In community, I have to bend, stretch and challenge my natural inclinations. In brief, the big problem with being 'spiritual but not religious' is selfishness. So what about our community. How are we doing?

We have been very active this summer, enjoying Jewish Communal Cookouts together with everyone from both Temple and Synagogue. The question now is "How do we maintain our momentum?" It's important that we don't start coasting now. Let's keep up our momentum. It's like biking. When you're going fast and you hit the bottom of the hill, you actually want to peddle harder, because you know that the more of the upcoming hill that you put behind you while going fast, the easier it will be to crest the hill and enjoy the next one. If you lose momentum, it's a long, slow agonizing crawl to the top. So too in community, we have to keep our momentum.

To keep our momentum up, we need to address a certain big momentum killer, namely criticism. Let's call it negative feedback. Calling it that acknowledges that for the hearer, it will go on the emotionally negative side of the score. (Did you know that the emotional force of negative feedback is only equaled by ten times the amount of positive feedback?) So we have to be careful when we offer it. R. Joseph Telushkin offers some profound insights on negative feedback (copies are available on the table in the lobby).

- R. Telushkin teaches that before offering negative feedback we should:
- -Take some time to do think it over.
- -Do a gut check. If you are looking forward to delivering it, then it is probably better to say nothing at all. On the other hand, if you don't relish the idea, but instead kind of wish you didn't have to, you are more likely to be in the frame of mind to deliver it effectively.
- -Be Specific. Don't use generalizations like always, or in general.
- -Do not make an accusation such as, 'You are X.' Don't assign negative motives to others.
- -Don't put it off until resentment has built up and you now have a big story to tell about how this person is generally nasty, lazy, rude, mean or thoughtless.
- -Consider how it would feel to receive this advice.
- -If possible, be careful not shame someone else, especially in publicly.

- -Look at the big picture, not just the "way things have always been done." Are you considering something that the other hasn't thought of, or are you merely insisting on them seeing it your way?
- -Are you giving the most charitable interpretation possible of the other person's action? What explanations or excuses might they be telling themselves to account for their behavior?

On the other hand, if you see some specific damage that may come about as a result of staying silent, speak up.

Secondly, in order for our community to keep its momentum and grow, we need you to take on a role. We are looking to continue running social, cultural and religious events. First, I want to highlight some ways that people have stepped up this summer. I do this at the risk of leaving someone out. Yet in the spirit of Hakarat haTov, acknowledging the good, and because I want you to get a sense for the beautiful way that many people's efforts have come together to create a beautiful and energetic community this summer, I am going to mention some of what I have seen this summer from my unique vantage point:

- -Scott Schwartz has been the visionary and driving force behind our second year of delightful summer "Jewish Community Cookouts." Most recently, he donated his couch so that we would have a special new space to hang out in our newly re-organized "recreation zone" downstairs.
- -Dolly matched Scott's efforts, coordinating our contributions and purchasing all the kosher food. She will shortly help with the Sisterhood annual Garage Sale Fundraiser. Please bring her more donations! She has done all this, while also getting her late husband, Bob's, book published, and planning a special memorial teaching in his honor. Not daunted at all by being an octogenarian, she is a model of just how vital life can be each and every day when we invest in community.
- -Lucrecia Kleinmann, our youngest adult member, conducted a congregational survey to help us take your feedback and discover areas of unaddressed

- need. She has read from the Torah. And she has regularly led us in davening. It is inspiring to see such a young person stepping into her role in our Jewish community.
- -Lorri Hochman is planning some special events for this coming year addressing topics of working toward educational programs addressing: conscious aging, a reenactment of suffragette Susan B Anthony, mental health, a cooking class, and art therapy. Stay tuned for more information!
- -Bonnie Yanklowitz organized a delightful, heartwarming and bittersweet Goodbye Celebration for Sunny Buchman ahead of her big move to New Jersey.
- -The Schwartz family Roz, Jeff, Diane and Scott made us their home for a special memorial unveiling in honor of Moe Schwartz.
- -Alex Frank and Stacey Mandelbaum made us the destination for their celebration of the engagement of their daughter Ariel to Anil Nathan. We very much enjoyed blessing them, and getting to know the Nathan family who travelled up from DC to meet our community.
- -Judy Korcz suggested that we form a Musar group which grew into the "Jewish Peace of Mind" course that we have been enjoying this summer. Thank you Judy for asking questions!
- -Kaye Grossman asked if we could have an "Introduction to Judaism" course, and so we ran one this summer, that has been a unique opportunity for important and vital conversations.
- -Pinchas Shabat continues to get each of us to Kiddush faster by jumping at the opportunity to read Torah whenever a minyan of men can be found.
- -Mike Gersten has been battling weekly with our fast growing lawn, keeping the place beautiful.
- -Mike Berkowitz and Kristi Madigan hosted a delightful birthday party for now 5 year old Holly. As a result, the social hall was bouncing with dancing children at precisely the moment when 101 year old Annette Lobel just happened to come back to visit her childhood shul home. Delightful reverie ensued while sitting together under streamers, watching children swirl hool-a-hoops, and devouring rainbow colored cake and ice cream!

- -Mick O'Dallaigh has showed up in a big way this summer, bringing great energy, deep commitment and a fresh take on things in our classes on both Wednesday and Thursday evening!
- -Elaine and Solomon Charhon became new members, and are contributing greatly to the fun exploits of the "Mishpacha Meshuga."
- -Lois Hellman has come early each week and contributed profound wisdom on Trust at our Musar class. She also hosted a very special evening of Challah braiding in which she passed on to very many of us the art of making beautiful challah.
- -Libby Levine and Rose Rothstein contributed a new TV that plays DVDs, which we have already been making use of together.
- -Tom Boyd stepped up to host our second "Classic Film" evening, Casablanca.
- -Leonora Kleinmann asked if we could have a ping pong competition, so we are going to "battle it out" on Wed, August 23rd from 4-6pm. Thanks for the great idea Leonora! Please come!
- -Marilyn Bazan and George Conable continue to contribute their joy and wisdom in our community, despite a heavy docket of guests at the Lakeview. Offering their equipment like the television for the first "Classic Film" evening and their steam cleaner to prepare the Parsonage carpet. They continue to provide generous hospitality for Bethany, Anav and I both in Glens Falls and at Lake Luzerne. We are so grateful for all they have done for us throughout these two years.
- -Nancy Goldstein has brought Isaac to services and Kiddush prep time and stayed late on Friday night to give him a chance to savor playing with others.

- -Robin Cohen has continued to make trips to bring Malachi for his weekly bar mitzvah preparations, and played a role in making it possible for him to come to the Thursday Challah Braiding.
- -Malachi Cohen suggested that we do some Challah baking, so we did. He has also done some regular tomato tending with me this summer in our little plot behind the shul.
- -Larry Greenberg immediately went and hired and oriented a new Office Manager, Nicole, after losing Laurie from the position.
- -Nicole Fiato has been going above and beyond as she learns about our Jewish practice, community, and our office systems. She has already improved our announcements in many ways and is including pictures for everyone's enjoyment!
- -Mark Aaronson and Mike Kanofsky were a huge help at a moment's notice, when they hauled dozens of chairs out to Haviland Cove for our community picnic.
- -Dan Shaham stepped up by volunteering to read his bar mitzvah Torah portion and to be second Gabbi for the Torah reading. We love it when each of you share your skills with us.
- -David Matzner has come regularly and also been our Cohen when Norm Kudan wasn't with us.
- -Judy Korot and Barbara Rosoff brought relaxation, delight and joy, when the Adirondack Klezmer Band got us dancing out at Haviland Cove. Thank you Judy and Barb!
- -Sunny Buchman is still organizing our High Holiday readers even if she just relocated to New Jersey!
- -Mark and Cher Hoffman not only continued contributing leadership in endless ways, but just as importantly made time to go on another epic bike ride. I am very happy that they are taking some time for much deserved self-care during the summer.

- -Raphael and Veronique Kleinmann have made us a major part of their family's life this summer. Raphael is helping us with some important strategic ideas regarding attracting new members, and improving the attractiveness and function of our basement area for children to play and members to engage each other in new ways.
- -Finally, Bethany Slater, has taken time away from her PhD process to teach and to lead us in a worldwide tour of Jewish Cuisine. I have enjoyed the aromas and subtle flavors, and most especially the good people and good vibes wafting through our synagogue on Thursday evenings!

Wow, I've got some thank you notes to start writing! And many other people have taken their time to show up to, or support these events and learning opportunities. We deeply value your presence and help!

In view of all the fun we've had together by bringing together the diverse talents of this incredible group of people, I want to extend the invitation to everyone: If you have skills you want to share, if you are looking for a way to grow your own impact in the community, then come meet with me and we can have a conversation about ways that you can be a key part of our vibrant communal life. Just call the office and ask for a meeting with the rabbi. I want to hear your ideas. What do you hope that we will be doing this coming year? If I am not available, call or write Mark or Nicole. Let's talk about how we could put you to work in building our beautiful Jewish community here in Glens Falls. We would love to support you in helping you take a new step up in responsibility and leadership. Some areas that need special attention:

- -Leading Torah Discussions on Shabbat
- -Building an active Jewish-Catholic Dialogue with our (curious and respectful) Catholic neighbors
- -Coordinator of the Cooking Class
- -Social Hour/Game Night at Shul (including the Ping Pong and Pool tables)

- -Facilitating Skill share Workshops
- -Facilitating a Monthly Book Club

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Thanks to Stephan and Bethany for putting on a great series of educational programs this summer. From what I've heard, the Jewish cooking class was especially appreciated. Thanks also to Lois Hellman for leading the Challah baking workshop.

Thanks also to the Kleinmann family for starting a congregational survey and also redesigning the synagogue lower level to create a more welcoming environment for children and adults to hang out.

It's great to see congregants take the initiative to make Shaaray Tefila an active and exciting center of Jewish life. We want to be as supportive as possible when our members create opportunities for communal and spiritual growth. I have reason to be optimistic that we will see more and more of this in coming months and years.

Get well wishes to Norm Kudan in recovering from his recent injury. We know he is with us Saturday mornings in spirit but we look forward to his physical return as well.

High Holidays are around the corner. Although we always emphasize the spiritual aspect of the holidays, I hope, this year especially, we can take advantage of our communal gathering to build our sense of welcome and community. One of my pleasant Jewish childhood memories of the holidays was how everyone hung out in the street outside shul to catch up with friends. Before rushing home after services, please take some time to socialize, inside or outside the building. Better yet, invite someone home with you to make these precious moments linger.

Mark Hoffman

Plan to attend this year's SELICHOT SERVICE On Saturday, September 16, 2017 at 7:30PM

The SELICHOT SERVICE is a service of prayers and psalms designed to impress upon us that the season for Heshbon Hanefesh is at hand. The Selichot prayers help us express our desire to make TESHUVA - a return to God's ethical, moral, and ritual precepts as taught in the Torah.

Let the prayers of the Selichot put us in the mood for reconciliation with God, Jewish tradition, and our inner selves.

TASHLICH AT CRANDALL PARK 1st Day Rosh Hashanah Thursday, September 21, 2017 At 4:30 PM

What is the purpose of Tashlich?

This custom, which means to "to cast off," is generally performed on the afternoon of the first day of Rosh Hashanah unless it falls on a Saturday. Jews go to a stream, river, ocean or lake (it should be a living body of water) and throw bread crumbs into the water as a way of symbolically casting away sins. The tradition is based on a verse from the Book of Micah: "God will take us back in love; God will vanquish our iniquities and cast our sins into the depths of the sea." The Tashlich prayer recited contains these verses and selected chapters from Psalms.

For many Jews, Rosh Hashanah is a time for reciting many words. Through Tashlich, we use our bodies and actions to do the work of return. Although the rabbinic authorities originally objected to this ritual, Jews stubbornly performed it until it became a "traditional" part of the holiday.

SYNAGOGUE NEWS, ANNOUNCEMENTS, and

Yom Kippur Appeal

We all have our reasons for being a part of Congregation Shaaray Tefila. It means different things to different people but we all share a responsibility in maintaining a viable Synagogue. Over the past twenty years, we have seen a decrease in membership though the loss of many of our long time members who have passed away or moved out of the area. Recently, we have seen an influx of new members—many of whom are seasonal.

How does Congregation Shaaray Tefila survive financially? We have not raised dues in over ten years. We have a current policy of first year membership free for new members. We have many part-time members who pay seasonal dues. We offer reduced dues on a case by case basis. We lost Bingo as a steady stream of income several years ago. We have a few fundraisers during the year such as the Sisterhood Garage Sale, the Holiday Flowers, Onegs and Kiddushes, and some other functions but they do not come close to covering the loss of income from Bingo. Some functions which used to be revenue neutral, meaning the cost was covered by those attending, are now revenue negative, meaning the Synagogue pays for them without charge to the attendees.

Over the past two years, we have seen the surplus in our checking reduced in half and this coming year may be the first time in over ten years that we will take money from our reserves to cover expenses.

Our Yom Kippur Appeal is our biggest fundraiser and we have been fortunate that it often exceeds our goal. It is up to each and every one of us to participate and not sit back and say, "They don't really need my help." Yes we do. We need everyone to participate by sending in your pledges. We no longer to the verbal solicitation of pledges during services so please get your pledges in before the Holidays and we will read them following the President's Message. Financial survival of Congregation Shaaray Tefila depends on you!

DANCING WITH THE TORAH

Join us to celebrate Simchat Torah with prayer and dancing! Thursday, October 12, 2017 at 6:30 PM and Friday, October 13, 2017 at 9:30 AM

Simchat Torah is the day on which we read the last part of the Torah and roll it right back to the beginning to read the first part. Like Sukkot, Simchat Torah is a happy time. On Sukkot we're thankful for the harvest which gives us food for our bodies. On Simchat Torah we're thankful for the Torah which gives us food for thought.

The Torah is probably the most important Jewish object there is. We show it lots of honor. We stand when it is taken out or put away. We stand whenever it is held up. We give it the same honor that people would show a king.

On Simchat Torah the congregation dances with the Torah scrolls. All the Torah scrolls are removed from the Aron Kodesh (Holy Ark) and distributed to members of the congregation. One member leads the other Torah-bearing members in a circuit around the Synagogue. The leader leads the congregation in reciting special prayers. When the circuit is completed, the congregation sings and dances until it is time to start the next hakafa (circuit). This is done seven times.

KOSHER DELIVERY

The next Kosher Delivery will be in October. We are still waiting for the new schedule and will inform you as soon it is available.

Congregation Shaaray Tefila and Sisterhood express their deepest condolences to The Matzner Family on the recent passing of Susan's mother, Molly Chapman, who passed away July 25, 2017. We extend sincere condolences to the Matzner and Chapman families and friends.

DO A MITZVAH - REMEMBER AN OCCASION

(Birthday, Anniversary, Birth, Wedding, Yahrzeit or any other event). We encourage you to prepare your own Oneg or Kiddush. Questions? Speak with Dolly Morrissey, Cher Hoffman or Bonnie Yanklowitz.

To schedule your Oneg/Kiddush date please call the synagogue office at 792-4945 or e-mail cstgfny@gmail.com. Thank you.

YEARLY YAHRZEIT RECORD

In a continuing effort to cut costs and save money we will not be including the yearly yahrzeit record in this bulletin again. There will still be two months at a time listed and all upcoming monthly editions. Additionally a copy of the yearly yahrzeit list will be available in the main office and on our website.

If you have an upcoming yahrzeit and need a minyan, please let us know.
