RABBI'S REPORT

It's strange. We're in the middle of winter, there is snow on the ground and bone-chilling temperatures. We're counting down the days to spring, still some months away.

But lo and behold, here comes this minor Jewish holiday which makes us think to the spring and the warmer temperatures. Yes, Tu B'Shevat is coming, the holiday of the trees! (Tu B'Shevat Higia Chag Hailanot!)

The holiday of the trees in the middle of winter? Yes, but of course the weather reference is to the land of Israel. And in Tel Aviv it will be about 65 degrees, not warm enough for swimming, but warm enough to stroll outside and think of nature.

The holiday's name is quite simple. Tu is Hebrew for 15 and B'Shevat added on means we are talking about the 15th of the Hebrew month of Shevat. So, what is this holiday for the 15th of Shevat? In ancient times, Tu B'Shevat was merely a date on the calendar that helped farmers in the land of Israel establish exactly when they should bring their fourth-year produce of fruit to the Temple in Jerusalem as first-fruit offerings. Fruit can only be harvested from trees older than three years old, so this holiday was a very important marker in aging of the trees.

Just as we celebrate Rosh HaShannah as the beginning of our year, trees "celebrate" birthdays every year on the 15th of Shevat. In fact, Tu B'Shevat is one of four new year's days as specified in the Mishnah (Seder Moed Rosh HaShannah 1:1) —Rosh HaShannah, Tu B'Shevat, Pesach (new year marking our freedom), and Rosh HaShannah l'behemot (tithing of the first-born animals, occurring on Rosh Chodesh Elul).

So, what do we do on Tu B'Shevat? Yes, we plant trees or donate funds to plant trees in Israel. But there is more...

In the Middle Ages, Tu B'Shevat was celebrated with a feast of fruits. In the 16th century, the kabbalist Rabbi Isaac Luria of Safed and his disciples instituted a Tu B'Shevat seder in which the fruits and trees of the land of Israel were given symbolic meaning. The main idea was that eating ten specific fruits and drinking four cups of wine in a specific order (while reciting the appropriate blessings) would bring us closer to spiritual perfection.

The tradition of a Tu B'Shevat seder has continued since then. Combining four cups of wine (or grape juice) with as many fresh or dried fruits native to the Land Israel as we can collect, we conduct a service reminiscent of a Passover Seder. One fruit key to the ceremony is the almond, which was thought to be the first fruit to be harvested each year.

Like Pesach, we don't just eat dried fruits and drink wine, but we sing! I referenced one song earlier, but there are several songs written just for the holiday of the trees. Kach Holchim HaShotlim (Thus walk the planters) and Shir Al Etz (Song of the Tree). But when you think about it, many of our traditional songs fit right in, too. Etz Chayyim Hi (It is a tree of life), Tzaddik Katamar (the righteous man will flourish as a palm tree), Zum Gali Gali (about early settlers planting trees) are but three of them.

We'll talk more about this holiday and its special significance with the congregation and our Sunday school students. This year (2019) the holiday will be celebrated on January 20 and 21 (Sunday night and Monday).

This minor festival is also an opportunity to raise awareness about and to care for the environment through the teaching of Jewish sources celebrating nature.

Happy Tu B'Shevat everyone. And a special happy birthday to all of the fruit trees!!!

Rabbi Gerry L. Ginsburg

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Thanks to everyone who helped make our Chanukah party such a great experience. As we head into the heart of winter, we sometimes have a challenge getting people out of their houses and into synagogue activities. However, I would like to suggest that nothing could be a better antidote to the winter doldrums than joining friends and family at shul for some lively prayer and conversation, some kiddish wine and an oneg nash or kiddish luncheon.

Along those lines, join us Saturday evening December 29 for Havdalah and movie night. Thanks to the Kleinmanns for organizing this. Also, we will be starting a class in Torah Wednesday evenings at 7PM beginning with the second Wednesday of January. Our focus will depend on the interests of the participants.

Friday evening services provide us with an opportunity to experiment with different ways of prayer for those who need something a little different than the traditional approach. Watch your calendar for Jewish Journey Shabbat over the next few months.

If there is an activity you would like to pursue with others at the shul, let us know. We encourage those of you with ideas and initiative to create your own Shaaray Tefila experiences.

Please like our Shaaray Tefila Facebook page and join our "Shaaray Tefila Group" on Facebook. This is a handy way to find out what's happening day to day and to exchange ideas and news with the Shaaray Tefila community.

I would like to express my condolences to Fran and Gerry Ginsburg on the death of Fran's father, Walter Wertheim. Please welcome them back to Shaaray Tefila on their return in late January.

CONGREGATIONSHAARAYTEFILANY

Invitation to women of all faiths to participate in a short-term interfaith peace dialogue project in the Glens Falls area. Meetings to be held monthly beginning in January for a six-month period. We will explore how our respective faiths inform our personal and public lives. If we know one another, we can respect and value our differences, find common ground, and love one another. Join us as we share our lives through the lens of our different faith communities. For more info, please contact Kate Roos at: kateroos@gmail.com.

SISTERHOOD NEWS

What a wonderful Chanukah dinner and celebration for the synagogue. Many Sisterhood members and their spouses prepared food, celebrated with many others, and took part with clean-up. The children and everyone enjoyed the evening! Many thanks.

Deepest Sympathy to Fran and Rabbi Ginsburg and Family on the passing of Fran’s father, Retired Judge Walter R. Wertheim.

Stay healthy, safe and warm, Snowbirds.

Happy, healthy, safe 2019 to everyone!!
