STUDENT RABBI'S REPORT

As I've been preparing for Yom Kippur and Sukkote services at Shaaray Tefila, one text keeps on popping into my head. The short passage comes from Yemima, a Moroccan-Israeli mystic and teacher. Yemima told her students that her teachings were not her own, but rather came from a deeper, Divine source. As such, she would sometimes teach behind a screen so that her students did not place too much deference on her as an individual.

Take a moment to imagine the voice of a strong old woman, calling out from behind a screen: "the power to repair is greater than the power to break." Yemima taught these words about our time in the Jewish calendar, but I am taking them as a rallying cry about this time in the history of our country and world. It can feel like our individual and societal mistakes are too great to fix. Yemima speaks to this concern with a simple and deep optimism. The work of repair might be harder and more dangerous than the act of breaking, but it is always possible.

Student Rabbi

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Thanks to all who participated in High Holiday services, either on Zoom or live at Shaaray Tefila. Special thanks to Syd Hochman, Pinchas Shabbat, Judy Korot, and Lucrecia Kleinmann for Torah and Haftarah reading and to Dan Korot for Shofar blowing outside after services and Leonora Kleinmann for helping lead prayers. I thought the outdoor shofar blowing was a lovely finale to our services. Thanks to Joey Glick for leading a great Yom Kippur experience. Thanks to all of you who helped keep us safe by making reservations for the live services and by following the guidelines for social distancing.

Leading musaf for Rosh Hashana, which I have never done before, was a great opportunity for me to grow in my Jewish practice. Thanks for granting me the opportunity to craft what I hope was an enjoyable and musical prayer experience.

Thanks to Lucrecia Kleinmann for arranging our Zoom seminar regarding Israel with the organization Stand With Us. It was a pleasure to participate with so many interested and involved college age students.

Watch the calendar and emails for our Succoth, Shemini Atzeret and Simchat Torah service schedule, both in person and on Zoom. There will be no Succoth booth erected outside this year due to covid restrictions. We are doing our best to meet the diverse needs of our pluralistic congregation in the midst of a pandemic. As of this time, we are still safe for carefully structured live services but we will adjust our plans as needed based on the public health situation.

Dr. Mark Hoffman
President
